LIBRARY GIVEN SECOND $1,000 BY C. M. YOUNG

A gift of a second $1,000 from Charles Morris Young of Radnor, Pa., to the Adams County Free library was announced Friday evening at the January meeting of the library's board of directors.

The announcement was made in a letter from Mr. Young, read to the board by Mrs. E. S. Lewars.

Last year Mr. Young, who was born near here and formerly resided in Gettysburg, presented three of his large paintings to the library and supervised their hanging in the library lobby and reference room. With the pictures he gave the library $1,000 to be kept in trust with the income to be used for the care of the pictures. The $1,000 received Friday will be added to that trust fund.

Mr. Young has attained an international reputation as an artist in the last half century. His works have been displayed in many art galleries in this country and abroad.

President Calvin A. Cluck presided at the meeting and appointed this property committee for the year: William M. Lott, Lloyd W. Crouse, Clyde McCauslin, Clarence C. Smith and D. E. Winebrenner, III.

The board received monthly reports and adopted a $13,000 budget for 1951 in the form in which it was submitted by a special committee headed by Clarence C. Smith.

The budget sets aside $2,900 for books and magazines and Mrs. Lillian L. Snyder, the county librarian, indicated a large part of that sum

OVER 400 ADAMS COUNTIANS IN ARMED FORCES

The war effort is beginning to strike deep into Adams county's manpower.

With heavier demands for men and women for the armed services expected during the year, the county has already sent an estimated more than 400 into the various branches of the services.

Selective Service records list 207 as having enlisted in the army or navy or air force, in addition to the 64 who have been drafted.

Those records are for men between the ages of 18 and 26 and cover enlistments within the past two years.

However, not included in that list, is the large number of men who remained in the services following the end of World War II, nor does the list include those who re-

DENY ASKING FOR SKATING RINK AT PARK

Highland Park residents did not request the flooding of the pond at the rear of the Redding property on South Washington street and will use every means available to have the natural drain back of the property opened, 30 of these residents declared today.

The Gettysburg Times reported Thursday that the board of health, at its January meeting the preceding night, was told that "Highland Park residents" or "at least some of them," had asked the fire company to fill the pond so the children of the neighborhood could skate on it.

"Realizing the potential danger that this situation has caused, the residents of Highland Park certainly would not order anything to make the pond even more dangerous," a letter to The Times declared.

"We invite all residents of Gettysburg to look at this potential death trap and judge for themselves if they would like to have such a hazard in their own back yards to endanger the lives of their small children."

The pond was used for skating until warmer weather thawed the ice. Highland Park "residents" who signed the letter did not indicate who it was that requested the fire department to use a pumper to put more water into the pond.

The signatures, the letter said, are those of "an adult resident or residents of each of the 21 homes located in the Noonan development"

LATVIAN FAMILY ENJOYS LIVING IN GETTYSBURG

A mother and her two daughters who arrived in Gettysburg on December 13 from a displaced persons camp in the American zone in Germany, are making their home, at least until the end of the present school term, with the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond F. Wieder, 162 East Middle street. Mr. Wieder is director of overseas relief for the Pennsylvania Council of Churches and his work includes the placing of DP's in this state.

Mrs. Lucija Kinstlers has not seen or heard from her husband, Melnhards Kinstlers, since he was conscripted by the Germans for service in the Nazi army after the family had fled from their home in Latvia just ahead of the Russian invasion.

Mr. Kinstlers was an office worker. With a few belongings they fled to Germany. After Kinstlers was taken for army duty, Mrs. Kinstlers and her two daughters, Gunta and Daina, wandered about Germany until the Americans came, and they entered an international displaced persons camp.

Gunta, now nine years old, is a pupil in the third grade at the High street school, and Daina, 11, is in fifth grade at the Meade school. Mrs. Kinstlers is doing housework at the Wieders and elsewhere. All of them like Gettysburg.

The two girls are doing well in school, according to Mrs. Wieder, largely because of the six years they spent in the DP camp, studying the English language.

Mrs. Kinstlers' father and mother are still in a DP camp in Germany, but have recently obtained a "sponsor" in this country, and expect to come to the United States soon.

CORONER LISTS HEART TROUBLE CHIEF KILLER

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated 69 deaths during 1950, according to his reports filed with the county commissioners. The number was an increase of five over the 64 recorded in 1949 and a jump of eight over the 61 listed in 1948.

Twenty-two of those who died suddenly were females, as compared to 24 females in the preceding year; 47 were males, as compared to 40 in 1949.

Heart conditions led all causes of death. Thirty-four died of heart conditions, ranging from coronary occlusion to acute dilation of the heart.

Coronary occlusion remained the top cause of sudden death. Twenty-six persons, 20 males and six female, had their deaths attributed to coronary occlusion. There were five cases listed as caused by coronary thrombosis, four male and one female.

EISENHOWER TO LEAVE TODAY

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower leaves for Europe today to take up his unprecedented peacetime command of international defense forces in Western Europe.

Before leaving, he was scheduled to top off a week-long round of conferences with diplomatic and military officials by a meeting with President Truman. Following their talk Mr. Truman was expected to see the general off at the Washington airport.

Eisenhower is expected to tell the Europeans that while the U. S. is prepared to do its full share toward making Western forces strong enough to repel Communist aggression, their nations also will have to do all within their power to supply men, money and materials.

American officials so far feel that the scope and speed of military preparations in Western Europe generally are far from adequate.

Eisenhower plans to visit the capitals of all the European members of the North Atlantic Alliance ranging from Norway and Britain in the north to Italy in the south. He probably also will talk with American officials in Germany.

He has described this first tour in his new role as Atlantic Alliance commander as being "exploratory."

FOUR SQUARE CHURCH WILL BUILD ADDITION

Work on an addition to the present Four Square Gospel church building on West Middle street will be started as soon as weather permits, it was announced today by the pastor, the Rev. Harold L. Myers.

A permit for the building of a 32x52 one-story concrete block addition, plus a 9x16 pastor's study, has been issued by Burgess William G. Weaver.

Included in the main addition will be quarters for the Cradle, Junior, Crusaders and Adult departments, and a Sunday school secretary's office. A pulpit and baptistry similar to that in the present auditorium will also be included. A nursery room will be added.

A basement will be included underneath the entire new structure with a kitchen immediately beneath the pastor's study.

Dedicated In 1937

The present building was dedicated on February 14, 1937. At present there are 232 church members and 250 Sunday school members. During the past year the Sunday school attendance has averaged 188 each Sunday, according to the Rev. Mr. Myers.

Renovations were recently made to the present basement which included provisions for three rooms, a new lighting system with a "buzzer" Sunday school system operated from the superintendent's room.

I. H. Crouse and Son, Littlestown, have been contracted with for the erection of the new building which will cost several thousands of dollars.

SENT WAITING FOR 'END OF WORLD'

Kermoes, B. C., Jan. 6 (AP)—Thirty members of a religious sect who call themselves the "Children of Light" are in an old, shuttered farm house today waiting for the end of the world. They say it'll come next Tuesday.

They are members of the "Church of God" who broke away from a pentecostal tabernacle in this British Columbia interior town of 1,000, some 150 miles east of Vancouver, B. C. The group has sold all worldly belongings and has been in the self-imposed confinement for 11 days.

A mother pleaded with her son to leave the farmhouse tonight because his father had died. The son yelled from behind closed doors: "No, I won't come home. I'll see him in four days anyway."

The elders of the sect have made no public statements but friends say the sect bases its belief that the end of the world is near on "Biblical prophecy." The "exiles from the world" are mostly farmers and fruit growers in the district.

Red Armies Push Offensive In Attempt To Trap United Nations Units In South Korea

Tokyo, Jan. 6 (AP)—Red armies of China and North Korea whipped their hammer and sickle offensive ahead today against United Nations soldiers retreating on wheels in South Korea.

Its aim was to trap and destroy tens of thousands of Allied troops by sealing them off from the old beachhead in south-east Korea.

The hammer hit straight at Suwon, 20 miles south of the twice-lost capital of Seoul; the sickle swept in massive power on Wonju, 55 miles southeast of Seoul.

With Wonju, a big road and rail center, the Reds would control the heart of South Korea. Roads fan out in all directions. Troops can be shunted either to the left or right or straight down toward Taegu, the Allied bastion in last summer's battle for the Pusan beachhead.

Using Seven Red Armies

But the big prize was the main body of U.N. troops themselves, withdrawing south of Seoul in long motorized columns.

A Communist force striking southwest from the Wonju hub would be in position to block off the retreat and trap the withdrawing Eighth Army against the Yellow Sea.

So big was the prize that the enemy has thrown seven Chinese and Red Korean armies—210,000 or more troops, into the sickle assault on Wonju.

The Eighth Army was retreating down "heartbreak highway" along which it fought so bitter and bloody a retreat six months ago in the hot summer sun.

Attack South Of Seoul

An enemy battalion attacked Allied rearguards south of Seoul Saturday morning. An Allied patrol estimated that 16,000 Chinese were massed five miles east of Seoul waiting for orders to cross the frozen Han river.

White-clad Chinese—camouflaged for snow fighting, attacked and overran Allied motor and command posts Friday only 12 miles north of Wonju.

This thrust touched off a 7½-hour fight. Allied units battled into the night to slow an assault that developed with surprising speed for the usually slow-moving Chinese. The Reds fired captured U. S. mortars.

Other Red forces drove ahead east of Wonju, adding their weight to the sickle thrust.

Reds Near Wonju

Censorship obscured many details, but the situation appeared to be most serious. Suwon's fine airfield was closed to Allied planes and the Wonju airfield mounted only a few flights of fighters.

Suspension of the Wonju flights indicated that the Reds were close to the road and rail hub. U.N. planes—land-based and carrier-based—tore into enemy concentrations. By midday today, U.S. Fifth Air Force pilots estimated they had inflicted 250 casualties.

Pilots devastated 13 enemy-held towns with rockets and jelled gasoline bombs.

Air force official estimated that planes alone have killed or wounded nearly 10,000 Reds in the first six days of 1951 and knocked out more than 6,000 enemy-occupied buildings.

RAILWAY LABOR PACT STALLED

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—The railway labor agreement recently worked out at the White House was stalled today by demands of three union groups for still better terms.

Ironically, the demands came on the same day the railroads announced they would seek a six per cent freight rate increase to offset their wage boost offers and other increase costs.

The new labor demands were made yesterday by regional leaders of three of the four major unions which reached a tentative agreement with the principal carriers December 21. Government mediators said today they hoped the agreement still may be used as a basis for a final settlement.

Unformed sources said the proposed rate increase would add some $400,000,000 to the railroads' anticipated revenues in 1951. D. P. Loomis, chairman of the carriers negotiating committee, had said at the conclusion of the White House conferences that the proposed settlement would cost the roads $130,000,000 annually.

The proposal, accepted by railway and top union officials taking part in the negotiations, and generally hailed as a three-year peace pact—ran into difficulty when it was presented to regional union organizations for approval.

First the engineers, then the trainmen and firemen, and the engine-men turned the pact down at meetings of their general chairmen. The fourth union, the Order of Railway Conductors, will hold its meeting in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, today. It too, is expected to reject the settlement plan.

Ford Estate Nears Final Settlement

Detroit, Jan. 6 (AP)—The multi-million dollar estate of Henry Ford is nearing its final settlement.

A fourth in a series of final accountings of the $80,000,000 estate was filed this week. The fifth and last is expected in the spring.

So smoothly has gone the huge task of distributing the holdings of the world-famed motor magnate that it received the plaudits of probate court today. Judge James H. Sexton indicated it was extraordinary for an estate of such size.

Only a few brief court sessions have been needed to settle the affairs of the man who helped to put America on wheels.

Last Half Rally Fails As GHS Bows 40-38 At Carlisle

A brilliant last half rally by the Gettysburg high cagers failed as the Warriors dropped a hectic 40-38 decision at Carlisle in opening the South Penn league campaign Friday evening.

A set shot from the foul line by Pete Callaman with 15 seconds remaining gave Carlisle the decision. Coach George Forney's outfit got off to a poor start and trailed 28-15 at half time. Dick Harriel, who led the scoring with 17 points, sparked the thrilling last half spurt which nearly pulled the game from the fire.

The Warriors knotted the count at 36-36 with four minutes of play remaining and then Harriel landed a goal to put the Forney-men out in front.

Carlisle came back to tie the count on a one-handed push shot by Dick Darr and with but seconds left Callaman unleashed his winning toss.

Carlisle Starts Fast
Washington, McCoy and Stull sparked Carlisle to a 16-10 lead in the first period, Gettysburg's points coming on goals by Skinner, Swope, McCormick and a pair of fouls by Ford. Carlisle swept ahead to its 25-18 half time lead when goals by Ford and Swope and a foul by Saunders were the only Warrior points of the second period.

Paced by Harriel the Forney-men began to close the gap in the third period. Harriel connected for four twin-pointers in the round while Ford and McCormick each netted one. At the end of the round Carlisle led 34-27.

The hectic finish found Harriel hitting for three goals and three fouls in the final period, McCormick added a single goal.

Ross Sachs' jayvees dropped a close 35-33 decision in the opening game. Skip Piscel landed seven goals for the locals.

May Change Rules In Legislature
Harrisburg, Jan. 6 (P)—Democrats came up with a plan today to revise drastically the operational rules of the Legislature.

The rules change plan is highlighted by a proposal that committees be apportioned among Republicans and Democrats in the same ratio as that existing in the membership of the House.

"The rules of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, like the rules of the House of Representatives at Washington, undermine democracy, because they in effect represent a repudiation of the principle of representative government," said Rep. H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria).

Andrews, House minority leader, disclosed that his party will suggest the rules amendments when the General Assembly convenes here January 15. But a Republican spokesman, who declined quotation by name, predicted defeat of the amendments since they would sharply curtail the GOP power in both House and Senate.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 6 (P)—Postal inspectors have arrested the superintendent of the suburban Super Hill post office on a charge of stealing from the U. S. mails.

S. Paul Kenny was arrested after inspectors said they found 20 unopened letters, containing between $50 and $75, in his automobile near the post office. The letters were addressed to a novelty company with a large mail order business.

G-BURG JUNIOR HIGH DEFEATS CARLISLE 31-27

The Gettysburg junior high cagers got off to a fast start in the first period and then withstood a last period rally by Carlisle to squeeze through to a 31-27 victory here Friday evening.

Coach Rogers Herr's lads piled up an 11-3 lead in the first period when they played their best brand of ball. At half time the locals led 18-9.

Williams and Baughman, with 10 and 9 points, respectively, led the attack for Gettysburg while Winters tabbed 11 for the visitors.

The Jayvees played improved ball but dropped the preliminary game 27-19. A poor start proved costly, Carlisle leading 17-11 at half time. Charley Livingston was outstanding for the Herr-men.

Next Friday Biglerville junior high will play here.

One Game Tonight; Bullets Vs. Lehigh

Only one game will be played tonight on the Gettysburg college court when the Bullets meet Lehigh university at 8 o'clock.

It was previously reported that Mercersburg academy would meet the college freshmen in a preliminary game. However, the frosh and academy teams will meet in a twin bill on the local floor this afternoon.

Tonight's game is expected to be a sizzling affair, Lehigh having a very promising team. With the exception of Tom Comly, 6-6 pivot man, the Bullets will match the Engineers in height. Four Lehigh squad members are 6-2.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 6 (P)—In a sort of reply to various complaints from minor league sources, National League Presy Ford Frick points out that last summer's Mutual Game of the Day broadcasts did a pretty good job of plugging various minor league cities. . . . And one thing that hampered the operation was that some clubs wouldn't take the trouble to send in the required information. . . . Frick wouldn't say so, but it appears that some of the guys who moan the loudest about the minors needing help are the ones who do the least to help themselves. . . . Still there's no denying the often-repeated complaint that the big leaguers are "selfish" enough to expend most of their efforts to selling their own product and just throw in a few words for the minors as an afterthought. . . . And another major league operator points out that some radio stations in minor territory "are pretty ruthless in their outlook." . . . They figure it's their party, so what if the neighbors do complain?

Then he rushed to the bench and hollered to his teammates: "All right, guys! I'm not carrying those gosh darned bags any more. I've scored."

Sammy Sneed Sets Pace In Tourney
Los Angeles, Jan. 6 (P)—Southern Sam Sneed, temperamental proprietor of golf's golden swing, stood out as the man to catch today as the second round got underway in the 25th annual Los Angeles Open.

Sneed, the defending champion and a rather capable country golfer, contributed a four-under-par 67 yesterday toward his third victory in the $15,000 tournament.

Sneed blazed a 31 on the par-35 front nine and carded a regulation 36 on the backside to finish with a one stroke lead over Marty Furgol, North Hollywood, Calif.

Opening with 69's were Doug Ford of Briarcliff, N. Y., Skeel Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., and movie pugilist Joe Kirkwood, Jr.

Ed Furgol of Royal Oak, Mich., Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., and newcomer Bob Watson from White Plains, N. Y., each fired a 70, one under par.

CANNERS LOSE PAIR OF GAMES

Biglerville high's three-game winning streak was snapped by the strong Spring Grove high dribblers who gained a 45-29 victory Friday night on the Canners' floor.

The Canners fought their opponents to a 15-13 margin in the first half but could not match the pace of the York counties in the last two frames. Lawver led Biglerville with 11 tallies while Mummert tallied 19 for the winners.

The Spring Grove reserves took the preliminary tilt after a nip and tuck game 41-39.

Biglerville will open its Adams County league campaign Tuesday night when it plays at Newville.

BUOYANT PEOPLE

How much we all owe to the buoyant people of this earth—those who give us a lift the moment they contact us. Buoyant with confidence, with enthusiasm, and far flung faith. Meeting such a person is an inspired event. His is a magnetic personality that leaves one aglow long after he has gone his way.

We have all known such people. I recall one—the late William (Billy) Lyon Phelps. His students at Yale loved him, and he was beloved far and wide. I believe he did more to stimulate the reading of good books than any other man of his time. He loved books and he loved talking about them. And he loved people. He would often breeze into my office, give a joyous hand of greeting to everyone, then leave to enrich others with that youthful, inimitable, buoyant spirit of his.

Buoyant people are never failures. They leave too much of the germs, or seeds, of success and happiness behind them. They are of the sort who inherit the earth without its material burden. I note that four new books have just been published about, or relating to that beloved writer, Robert Louis Stevenson. Here was a man who was ill most of his life, and who suffered greatly, but whose buoyant spirit and good cheer touched the heart of millions.

In one of the books by Stevenson I came across this sentence: "Every heart that has beat strong and cheerfully has left a hopeful impulse behind it in the world, and bettered the tradition of mankind."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

BEST MEAL
I've sat at banquet tables and in fancy clubs I've dined,
I'm no gourmet but I've eaten costly foods of every kind,
And of all the meals I've taken, north or south or east or west,
Sunday supper with the children is the one I call the best.

I've had every sort of salad, tossed, or jellied, pink or green,
There's no soup I haven't tasted—turtle down to lowly bean,
But though it be just a sandwich on that holy day of rest
Sunday supper with the children is the one I like the best.

You can have your costly victuals, and your formal dress and sham,
Your music and your speeches, but it's happier I am
And more peaceful and contented at the meal that I like best:
Sunday supper with the children, where there is no honored guest.

Roosevelt's Message Given. Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt told Congress today the United States faced an unprecedented "foreign peril" and demanded a swift and driving increase in our armaments "both for defense and use of fighting 'democracies' abroad."

"Such aid is not an act of war," Mr. Roosevelt asserted, "even if a dictator should unilaterally proclaim it so to be."

"When the dictators are ready to make war upon us, they will not wait for an act of war on our part," he continued. "They did not wait for Norway or Belgium or the Netherlands to commit an act of war."

Driving And Your Oil

On a busy route the other day, it was interesting chatting with a filling station owner who took time out to boast that he could analyze a driver's habits by the amount of oil the engine of his car required. Of course, he does know just what the average engine of a certain make and year of car ought to need by way of oil, and he bases his estimate of the driver's skill on how far the latter deviates from this norm. I don't know whether or not it makes sense, but he did have some convincing arguments. And some proof. When the driver of a good looking 1950 job drove in, slammed on the brakes and jumped out with a command to "fill 'er up," my informant predicted that the motor would take two quarts of oil. He checked the odometer to make sure that the car had traveled past the point of break-in period, then raised the hood. Sure enough, the motor took two quarts. "The owner is erratic," was the explanation. "He drives in fits and starts, and takes his foot off the accelerator suddenly whenever he slows down."

Off The Beaten Track

An oddity in windshield wiper misbehavior is having one of the rubber hoses suck inward. This sort of collapse may be the reason for slow wiper action, or occasional failure. Rough braking may be the penalty for having a loose brake backing plate. In some cases this becomes sort of chronic because of difficulty keeping the plates tight.

The reason most experienced mechanics believe that the motor should have a ring job when a valve grinding job is ordered is because removal of carbon around the tops of the pistons will encourage oil to suck by worn rings more freely.

Where Credit Is Due

Among the famous firsts in automotive history is the advent of hydraulic four-wheel brakes on American stock cars. The credit for this goes to the erstwhile Duesenberg car. Exhibited in Chicago early in 1921 it revealed the braking system which is essentially that now used quite universally. Earlier Rickenbacker had featured mechanical brakes of the four-wheel variety. I have an antique advertisement in which this company declared that as of that date any car without four-wheel brakes was obsolete. It came near being fact. But there were many hurdles to overcome. One of the important improvements was use of a new type master cylinder in which the brake pedal, returning to its off position, could not encourage air to be sucked into the lines. Hupp introduced this.

"In most cases where drivers ac-centually fail to release the hand brake, assuming it operates through the rear wheel brakes, nothing serious follows, but occasionally enough heat will be generated to heat the brake fluid. All's well, if the fluid is of good quality. But if the fluid is inferior the heating process will make it even less useful. That calls for immediate bleeding of the lines, flushing with alcohol and refilling with fluid of known quality.

"The very fact that the fluid is affected by heat indicates its inferiority. Quality fluid is designed to remain at a constant viscosity over a wide temperature range."

The Spice Of Life

Anyone who believes that modern cars are rather similar in design should go to the service station with the owner of one of the newest models with an automatic transmission. There he will find that on this car the transmission has to be drained with the engine running. To refill three quarts of oil are put into the transmission with the engine stopped; then an additional six quarts are added with the engine idling and the selector rod set in the "neutral" position.

Driving in fog recently I found that the dash and tail lights were a little dim on the fog-light circuit which is independent of the regular lights on my car. . . . It suggests the need for checking the fog-light circuit occasionally. . . . A medal or something for the man who believes he'd like to buy a new car exactly like his old one. . . . He's loyal but he'd never find it the equal of a 1951 model. . . . Coffee shops on express highways are being promoted as a means of preventing accidents by keeping the drivers awake. . . . Oddly enough, few people drive the car they buy before signing on the dotted line.

High Cost Of Failure

Some of the things about car design which serve to prevent trouble do not always work out as anticipated. I am reminded of the oil intake of the engine which may be the floating type. Object of this is to provide for picking the top layer of oil which is always cleaner. To fail to keep the crankcase clean, just because the oil intake is this type, may result in trouble because now and again the pick-up may sink to the bottom of the pan and pick up the sludge which accumulates there. When this happened to one neglected motor there was so much gumming the whole thing had to be torn down and rebuilt.

Less Risks On Hills
The radio boys may mean well when they warn not to pass cars on hills but they ought to be more specific about this and also point out that this is not illegal in all localities. Nor is it hazardous, if the passing is done on upgrades where there is a clear view of the road ahead. Believe it or not, the easiest place to get back into line, if you have misjudged your distances or the accelerative ability of the car, is on an upgrade. The instant you take your foot from the gas the car loses speed, and often you can drop back into line without using the brakes. On a downgrade it is just the opposite and the other car is gaining speed as you try to pass.

Often it is necessary to get around a lumbering truck on an upgrade, if conditions permit. That is why many lawmakers approve it. Some years ago a friend of mine didn't pass when he had a chance and the trailer truck ahead stalled, stopped and backed into him.

Coolant Filters Now

Filters for the cooling system seem to be coming in for considerable attention. The newest work on the same principle as an oil filter. That is, they take off a portion of the water, filter it and then return it to the pump. In this way there is no possibility of interference with the flow of coolant. By using a quite large filter there is increased cooling capacity which is an advantage on many cars, especially those with automatic transmissions. Newest in this coolant filtration is provision for checking rust as well as removal of any rust or sediment that may be in the system.

In The Motor Mail

Q. I have installed a higher compression head on the engine of my car but can't seem to get increased speed or even power. Am using premium gas, too.—K. R. Y.

A. There is a temperature situation here. The higher compression is evidently causing the engine to run hotter, resulting in a power drop rather than an increase. You might play around with the ignition timing, and of course see what you can do to lower the operating temperature.

Q. In spite of careful checking of front-end alignment there is excessive wandering of my car. I have listed the various things that have been done to the car to try to correct this.—Wm. H.

A. I notice that you have not considered possibility of excessive looseness in the rear end of the car.

NEW PHASE OF FOREIGN POLICY FIGHT OPENED

By JACK BELL
Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) has opened a new phase of the bitter foreign policy fight by challenging President Truman's contention that he has the authority to send additional troops to Europe.

Taft said in the Senate yesterday that the President has no power to commit American troops to a European defense force without approval first from Congress. He asserted that Mr. Truman had involved the U.S. in the Korean war "without authority."

In his first foreign policy speech of the 82nd Congress, Taft said he is willing to commit "some limited number of American divisions" to North Atlantic defense. But he said the Europeans must take the lead in forming such a force.

Truman Claims Authority
President Truman already has named Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as supreme commander of the projected international army. And the administration has laid plans to contribute an undisclosed number of troops.

Quickly Challenged
Mr. Truman said at his Wednesday news conference that there was no question but that he has the authority to do this.

Taft said that instead of sending troops, the United States should build up powerful air and sea defenses, spending up to $400,000,000 a year for all military purposes. He added: "If we send to Europe or promise to send within a few weeks of the beginning of the war, say a million and a half men, there is at least a reasonable chance that that army may be destroyed and may never return to this country."

Taft's reference to 1,500,000 men drew a challenge today from two Democratic Senators. Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) struck to his assertion—made first in the Senate yesterday—that there is no responsible opinion in the government "which wishes to commit American boys to any such futile effort" as trying to match Communist manpower on the continent. Senator Kilgore (D-W. Va.) said Taft was "proceeding from the wrong premise."

Rome, Jan. 5 (AP)—Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab league, was quoted today as saying that spiritual alliance of the Moslem and Christian world would group more than half of the men of the earth together against a common enemy.

"The two religious," the Arab leader was quoted as saying in an interview published in Il Tempo of Rome, "are founded upon an exquisite high spirituality and are menaced by the same enemy, atheistic materialism."

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Congress was today Friday civilian employment moved upward in November for the fifth consecutive month. The Senate-House committee on reduction of non-essential expenditures said payrolls hit 2,163,278 in the month, an increase of 32,827 over October.

RADIO

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Another all-out radio-TV broadcast will be in operation for President Truman when he delivers his annual State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress on Monday. Time is scheduled for 12:45 p.m. on TV and 1 o'clock on radio, running possibly until 1:45.

For television, it will be the most extensive hookup yet for such an event. The telecast, which will go as far west as Omaha and as far south as Jacksonville, Fla., will open 15 minutes earlier than the radio to enable pickup of preliminary scenes.

The radio transmission will go to the more than 1,200 coast to coast stations that comprise NBC, CBS, ABC and MBS. In addition, the broadcast will be available to any independent station desiring to cut in. Voice of America short wave relays also will be in action.

CORONER LISTS OVER 400 ADAMS

one drowning was recorded. Two persons lost their lives by fire in 1949.

There were seven inquests into accidental death, one each in January, March, May, June, July, September and November. In 1949 there were five inquests held by the coroner and during the year 1948 only three inquests were held.

Only one death other than the suicide was caused by guns, with a man dying in July from an accidental shot through the abdomen. Seven persons died as a result of fractured skulls, four males and three females.

21 In Gettysburg
Gettysburg continued to hold the lead in the number of coroner's cases with 21 recorded here, as compared to 14 in 1949 and 29 in 1948. The second largest number of coroner's cases, five, were recorded from Cumberland township. McSherrystown, Franklin township, Littlestown, and Berwick township each listed four, Straban, Butler, were listed as having three each and two each were recorded in Abbotstown, Reading, New Oxford, Mt. Joy and Mt. Pleasant. Other sudden deaths occurred in Liberty, Biglerville, Bendersville, Oxford, Menallen, Orrtanna, Freedom and York Springs.

OVER 400 ADAMS

enlisted, or enlisted during the years prior to 1948, nor does it include countians in the various women's components of the armed forces.

Conservative Figure
Nor does the list of 207 include all who have enlisted in the armed forces during the last two years, as the draft board has found out from time to time as it sent notices of potential induction of men who turned out to have been already accepted into the armed services. The necessary delay while papers of the armed force members are processed and returns sent to the draft board indicates the fact that the draft board list of those in service is always less than the number actually in service. The 400 figure on the number of countians already in service is believed to be a low estimate. At least 60 of the countians in service subscribe to The Gettysburg Times, a check of part of the subscribers lists shows. Of that number about one-half are listed as being stationed at camps here and most of the remainder are divided between Europe and the Orient.
